OLD BOYS' HONOURS AND DISTINCTIONS

The following Old Boys received the O.B.E. in Her Majesty's Birthday Honours, 1956:—R. A. Browning (c 1908-14), Director of Contracts for the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Commission; F. Belcher (b 10-17), Deputy Director, Supply Ground Services Division, Ministry of Transport and Civil Aviation; L. E. Room (b 12-19).

B. C. A. Spinks (b. 34-38) has been admitted as a member of the Society of Incorporated Accountants.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. R. E. Bune (1893-96) at the age of 76. From 1901 onwards he reported for The Times and in 1910 joined their permanent staff. In the 1914-18 War Mr. Bune was in charge of casualty lists and biographies of the fallen. Later Mr. Bune served on The Times Educational Supplement.

L. A. C. O. Hunt (d 22-27) is a Senior Government Officer, North Western Territories, Dominion of Canada. E. H. Gilmour also of Dutton's (21-31) is also in Canada. Mr. Gilmour was Captain of the School 1930-31. He is an official with the United Nations Branch of the External Affairs Department of the Dominion of Canada.

HOUSE PREFECTS: D. A. Buckman, K. B. Clarke, D. I. T. Hay, R. W. Sanwell, R. J. Atkins, I. G. Falkner, M. J. E. Smith, D. J. Sperring (b); A. W. Barnes, R. J. R. Cousins, R. J. Bench, B. J. Carpenter, D. Game, W. C. Henderson (br); P. J. Chubb, D. C. Weston, B. Turner, D. A. F. Pennell, T. A. King, D. J. Bispham, A. D. Price, D. E. Tagg (c); M. A. Field, R. Hugo, M. C. Stokely, P. R. R. Jackson, B. M. Kelley, D. E. Sleat (d); M. J. Gorman, P. R. M. I. Bladon, J. F. Baldock, M. J. Eaglen, R. J. Wales, C. D. M. Rhodes, R. A. Andrews, J. A. Edwards, D. L. French (r); defeating Dutton's (the former holders) 4-3 after extra time and Spurgeons 3-1 before losing to Tulley's 4-0 in the final, but the team was somewhat disorganised by the absence of two of the regular players. The junior team easily retained the cup, which they had won the previous year, by beating Cribb's 5-1 in the final after defeating Roper's 4-1 and Dutton's 4-2 in the previous rounds.

In Fives J. Atkins and E. S. Green won the School U.16 Doubles Championship, and P. E. Rice the U.14 Singles Championship. Burchell again represented the School 1st IV.

In the School Sports we came only one point behind Roper's but a considerable way behind Dutton's, the winners. Many competitors from the House did well on Sports Day and especially to be congratulated in this respect are Koolhaas-Revers, Harding (who also won the Junior Long Jump in the L.A.C. meeting at the White City during the Easter holidays), Barnett and A. J. Hall. Harding was awarded half-colours for athletics and Koolhaas-Revers, who also gained half-colours for Cross-Country, was re-awarded quarter-colours. The House came second in the Marathon Relay but won the Rappard Relay Cup by a clear-cut margin.

R. J. Atkins and Godfrey are to be congratulated on playing leading rôles in "Trial by Jury" at the end of term, and M. E. J. Smith, I. G. Falkner and D. G. Sperring on their appointments as House Prefects.

There were no leavers last term so the House can confidently anticipate a successful term with hopes of retaining the cricket cups and the swimming trophies which the House won last year.

BROWN'S

Housemaster :
Mr. L. A. R. Shackleton

Former Housemasters :
Mr. E. C. Brown
Mr. R. L. Taylor
Mr. B. E. G. Davies
Mr. F. A. Meerendonk
Mr. E. F. LeFeuvre

House Captain: P. A. March

The term once again proved a mixture of minor successes and major disappointments. We reached the second round of the Senior Football Cup by beating Cribb's and were then duly beaten by Tulley's, the eventual winners; the Junior were defeated in the first round. We congratulate J. A. Saunders on being re-awarded 2nd XI Football Colours and on his frequent appearances for the 1st XI.

We sank to sixth place in athletics, which was a disappointing anti-climax to the enthusiasm and labour of R. J. R. Cousins, who never spared himself. Our congratulations go to C. Field on being awarded Quarter-Colours for Cross-Country running and Athletics.

The School production at the end of term drew on several members of the House, including P. A. March, who as Stage Manager was ably assisted by J. M. Hawkins.

Our League Cricket will be under the control of A. N. Barnes, and we hope to maintain last year's position. In School Cricket J. A. Saunders will again be Vice-Captain of the 1st XI; P. A. March will be Assistant-Secretary of Cricket.

CRIBB'S

Housemaster :
Mr. M. H. Cocks

Former Housemasters :
Mr. A. F. Cribb
Mr. W. H. Morgan
Mr. L. H. Jones

House Captain : P. J. Chubb

The House has enjoyed reasonable success this term, marked more by outstanding individual performances than by combined achievements. Thanks

ROPER'S

Housemaster :
Mr. E. F. Upward

Former Housemasters :
Mr. Roper
Mr. Linnell
Mr. Rudd
Mr. Smith

House Captain : G. G. Williams

Despite early defeats in both football cups, the Lent Term proved to be a very successful one in both the sporting and cultural spheres.

The Senior Cup side tried extremely hard against Spurgeon's but they lacked the skill and cohesion of their opponents. The Juniors fought most courageously against Brading's, the eventual cup winners—the score 1-4 gives little credit to their excellent performance.

Our congratulations go to all those who represented the School, especially to G. G. Williams on being awarded 1st XI colours.

Inspiring leadership and a great all-round improvement enabled the House to obtain second place in the Athletics. This most encouraging result was largely brought about by four very promising athletes:

B. K. Andrews (Capt.), who won the Mile and came second in the Half-mile (Class 1);

Patrick, who won the Hurdles and 440 yards (Class II);

Rickwood, who won the Long Jump and came second in the 100 yards (Class II); and Burton, who won three events in Class III and broke the School 880 yards record.

B. K. Andrews won all his Mile races last term and broke the School Mile Record in the Public School Sports, and was awarded Half-Colours.

The House was placed third in the Rappard Relay and fourth in the Marathon Relay.

Our long-distance running prospects look very bright, for B. K. Andrews ran consistently well in School Cross-Country matches and was awarded Half-Colours. Burton, Patrick, Singer, and Whyler all obtained places in the School Junior Cross-Country team.

A great improvement was also noted in the standard of House Fencing, where we rose to third position in the League. D. G. Pye, who was a most enthusiastic Fencing Captain, represented the School throughout the year and reached the semi-final of the Public Schools Senior Foil.

At Chess, the House reversed last year's disappointing performance by coming top of the "B" League. We congratulate all who played for the House and particularly P. R. Bladon, Bladon, A., and Rickwood—who also represented the School.

Considerable interest was shown in Fives last term; and although the Seniors met with little success, the Juniors only just failed in their attempt to win the "A" League. We thank J. E. Newton for all his hard work as Fives Captain, congratulate Jeffrey and Hanks on reaching the semi-final of the Under 15 Tournament, and R. J. Wales, Rickwood, and Hanks on representing the School.

True to our musical tradition we were very well represented in the Opera, in fact there were more members from Roper's in the cast and orchestra than from any other House. We thank the singers, actors, musicians, and all the others who assisted behind the scenes for contributing towards the production's success.

In the academic field, congratulations go to C. S. Cook and R. D. B. Hampton on obtaining University places at Oxford, G. F. Pye at Cambridge, P. R. Bladon, at Durham, and M. J. Gorman, at Bristol.

previously gained them. The Junior team however continued their run of bad luck in their competition by losing by one goal to Cribb's in the semi-final. Perhaps better luck will attend them next year.

In the School Sports the performances from the House were on the whole disappointing, and consequently we dropped from second place to fourth. We do, however, congratulate Chaplow on winning the Class I High Jump, and also all other finalists. Others in the House also represented the School on numerous occasions, and Chaplow is to be congratulated on being awarded School Quarter Colours.

In the Rappard and Marathon Relays we finished third in both, but the Steeplechase, in which we were favourites, unfortunately had to be cancelled on account of the weather.

In Fives the results showed an erratic trend. In the Senior competition we were relegated to the "B" League, whereas in the Junior competition we gained promotion to the "A" League. Individually our congratulations go to Fitzgerald on reaching the final of the U.14 tournament in which he was beaten by the narrowest of margins.

The House was by no means idle however on the more artistic side of School activities, for several members of Tulley's were conspicuous in the casts of both "Trial by Jury" and "Bastien and Bastienne." R. T. Clutterbuck especially is to be congratulated on his performance in the former, and we thank also Duggan, Gurney, Rowley, Harding, Botwright and Tindell for helping to provide such a pleasant evening.

Finally we welcome P. Stone and J. A. Jarvis to the ranks of House Prefects, and wish good-bye to our leavers. P. W. R. Corfield, whose energy did much to revive interest in Chess throughout the School, will be sorely missed, and so will Hall and Beech. To these three we offer our best wishes for the future.

TYSON'S

Housemaster :
Mr. J. Logan

Former Housemasters :
Mr. J. A. Taylor
Mr. E. F. LeFeuvre

House Captain: J. W. Ely

It is unfortunate that the merits of a House are frequently judged by sporting successes while the two essential elements—loyalty and enthusiasm—are overlooked. To the superficially-minded it would appear that we are adopting an attitude of "sour grapes" by holding this view. This is by no means the case for Tyson's is fortunate in having both the essential elements in generous proportions. By sowing the seeds of good team-work, we shall enable members of the House to reap a rich reward in the future.

We were unsuccessful in the Football Cups despite some good individual performances and thanks are due to our Cup Captain, R. H. S. Brunt, for his unstinting work.

Our hopes for the Steeplechases were disappointed, when the fixture was cancelled, as a programme of hard training had taken place under the careful guidance of M. W. F. Wood, our Captain of Cross-Country Running.

Although we were unsuccessful in Athletics there were several minor successes and praise is due to R. E. Lee, our Captain of Athletics, for his fine example and good organisation.

Fencing, the Cinderella of our sporting activities is gradually superseding her ugly sisters, for in the competition, our team bettered their previous position by rising one place to sixth. Thanks must go to the Fencing Captain, A. J. Gray, the House Captain and M. J. Ashley.

The record of the term's activities would be incomplete without mention

LIBRARY NOTES

Master : Dr. E. L. Giles

Senior Librarian : G. G. Williams

Deputy Librarian : C. D. M. Rhodes

The most recent acquisition to the library has been the new Encyclopaedia Britannica. We hope that the fifth and sixth forms, for whom this has been bought, will make full use of it. We are pleased to note that once again the School Magazine is being bound and placed in the library. All school leavers are asked to make sure that they have no library books at home as many are lost by people forgetting all about them. Leavers are also reminded of the old custom of presenting a book to the library when they leave. We would like to thank the Senior Librarians M. W. F. Wood, S. R. Chapman, R. A. Strangwick and P. A. March for their valuable help and advice during the past term. The following librarians have worked hard during the year: Rice T., Rice J., Board, Henry, Aitkins, Church, Rowley, Tagg, Algie, Edwards, Chotia, Hollomby, Simmonds and Hockey.

G.G.W. &amp; C.D.M.R.

C.C.F. NOTES

Field day last term was at Wimbledon Common on Friday, 17th February. Owing to the shortness of the Lent term the Certificate "A" examination was held on 30th April, the second Monday of term. The result was most satisfactory : of 65 candidates for Part 1, 59 were successful, and of 62 for Part 2, 59 passed.

On March 24th and 25th the R.S.M. and 12 cadets went on a Royal Artillery course on Salisbury Plain. The cadets manned three 25-pounder guns and fired about 60 rounds per gun. Eleven cadets and N.C.O's. went to Guillemont Barracks, Cove, for an R.E. course on Bailey bridging on 21st and 22nd April. Easter Camp was at Purfleet Weapon Training Camp from 4th to 13th April. It was attended by the Commanding Officer, Major Spring, the R.S.M. and 30 cadets.

The Annual Inspection will be carried out on 15th June, at 3 p.m., by Major-General C. E. A. Firth, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O. Annual Camp will be at Stanford, near Thetford, Norfolk, from 31st July to 8th August.

We welcome Mr. T. E. Evans who joined the C.C.F. in January and will take charge of the R.A. section.

The following promotions were made :

To be C.S.M.: Moore, L. J., Saunders, J. A.

To be C.Q.M.S.: Chambers, N. M., Hobbs, K. H., Lewis, R. J.

To be S.Q.M.S.: Cousins, R. J.

To be Sgt.: Lewis, D. J., Clutterbuck, R. T., Allan, J., Smith, M. E. J., Barnes, A., Atkins, R. J., Martin, D.C.

To be L/Sgt.: Kelley, B. M., Carpenter, B. J.

To be Cpl.: Eglen, M. J., Attwood, D. J., Moody, G. R., Corline, A., Carpenter, B. G., White, K. A., French, O. L., Samuell.

To be L/Cpl.: Algie, J. A., Sleat, D.

Easter Holiday Camps and Courses :

Cpl. Eatwell, B. S. : Weapon Training Course, Small Arms School, Hythe.

L/Cpl. Willson, J. } Mechanical and Auto Engineering, R.E.M.E., Bordon

L/Cpl. Burdon, G. }

R.S.M. Randall and 12 Cadets : 25 Pdr. Firing, Larkhill, Salisbury.

2 Officers, R.S.M. and 30 Cadets : Purfleet Weapon Training Camp.

1 Officer: R. Engineer Trng., Cove, Aldershot.

In 1846 the railway mania had reached its height and a frenzy of speculation set in which was responsible for the building of railroads all over Britain. The spirit of adventure must have been engrained in the Victorians, for their boldness in testing out new railway engines knew no bounds. Even the most respectable people caught the railway fever for we hear at one time of a locomotive with sails on which two headmasters were killed. Hunting was in far more popular favour than it is today. These are times when we do not "ken John Peel with his coat so grey" and the huntsmen who spent their lives dashing over stiles and ditches, tearing down the Cumberland hills after the fox. As to the tight-rope craze, no present-day circus could offer the daring highlights of 19th-century trapeze artists. The amazing achievements of Blondin will surely never be equalled, nor those of twenty-one-year-old Maria who crossed Niagara Falls blindfold, walking backwards and with her feet impeded by cumbersome baskets. Maria was by no means the sole example of the dashing Victorian Miss as the costume of the period illustrates, for those were the days when women dressed for men and not for comfort. As a result Englishwomen used to be physically disabled and half-invalids. It is extremely doubtful whether any modern woman would be daring enough to innovate the fashion known as the Bloomer craze which came with the 1851 Crystal Palace, that year witnessing several female Londoners walking about the streets with ankle-length bloomers protruding from knee-high skirts.

The life span being shorter than it is today the emphasis in the 19th century was on speed. Thus the Victorians entered upon the new era of aerial travel with their accustomed energy. There were several attempts at flying badly constructed aircraft, but more frequent were the ballooning expeditions which were in full swing. A 500-mile cross-Europe flight was made in an 1836 balloon whilst the go-ahead Victorians even attempted an aerial Arctic exploration in 1897. As much as we may laugh at old "balloonatics," we must remember that our grandparents were the first to really get to know about the air and make the world air-minded through their courage and enterprise.

Bicycles were everywhere in the 1880s, and we find many athletic oddities in which the cycle figured prominently. Hockey matches on bicycle, and races between cyclists and racehorses were common, and in winter the back wheel of the penny-farthing was replaced by flat bottomed ice skates, a series of small knobs were added to the front "penny" wheel, and the bicycle was promptly employed for use on the ice. Small wonder this ingenious adaptation took place, for skating was one of the most popular of their sports, even Mr. Pickwick having a turn on the ice whilst in a sportive mood. Modern cyclists seem cowards in comparison with those of 19th-century England. In 1885, for instance, an aerial bicycle was constructed with an electric motor designed especially to run along the newly-erected telephone wires. In spite of the numerous trials which adventurous young Victorians gave this invention, it can never have been very successful since we do not hear of it again.

No less venturesome were Queen Victoria's subjects when it came to sport. Football, cricket and lawn tennis all started to become popular at this time. 1880 saw England (under the leadership of W. G. Grace) soundly beat the Australians in the first Test Match, whilst it was in 1872 at Kennington Oval that the first Cup Final was played between the Royal Engineers and the Wanderers. Nor were our dashing ancestors afraid to enter into the spirit of popular songs, which activity is classed by so many as one of the necessary qualifications for the "dashing" man. Songs like "Louisiana Lou," "Daisy Bell" and "Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-de-ay" almost drove Britain crazy in the 1890s.

Turning to more cultured literature it has been said that long descriptions, three volume novels and meandering style of Dickens, Trollope and Macaulay prove the age to be anything but dashing. Although Victorian literature may age church there which was very attractive. Next day, a most beautiful gorge, the Wimbachklamm, with a cascading stream at the bottom was visited, an experience never to be forgotten by those who went. The brilliant sunshine and blue skies on Tuesday made us sorry to leave the picturesque youth hostel set in this alpine wonderland, but once installed in the converted castle in Vienna, where the glorious weather continued, we had no regrets and soon settled down to cover our very full programme.

The day after our arrival, we visited Schönbrunn Palace, home of Marie Antoinette, where we were shown a succession of luxurious suites housing many beautiful antique treasures. From the gloriette, a large monument to the memory of the Austrian Empress Marie-Theresa, we received a panoramic view of the city. On Thursday evening, a long-awaited event took place, the visit to the Vienna State Opera House, where we heard Beethoven's "Fidelio" performed. This is an experience that few members of the party will forget, if only for the memory of the interior with its mighty chandeliers. On Friday, the 13th, the party went to see a disused mine at Mödling, just outside Vienna. It contained the largest underground lake in Europe, the Seegrötte, upon which a boat excursion was made. During the last war, the lake had been drained and the space used to manufacture fighter aeroplanes, relics of which were seen in a small museum. The following morning, a small party of those who had recovered from the activities of the previous day climbed the 348 steps of the tower of St. Stefan's Cathedral and after that inspected the last resting-place of most of the Hapsburg family. The party spent a happy afternoon throwing stones in the Danube and patronising the Prater, the local equivalent of the Battersea Pleasure Gardens, especially the big-wheel of Harry Lime fame. The next day saw the party reviewing the famous Spanish Riding School of Vienna, and the German scholars of the party visited the Burgtheater and saw a magical play. Next day we all went to the Volksoper and spent a pleasant evening enjoying the music of Strauss in "Wiener Blut." The last day was spent on an excursion to the nearby Roman town of Carnuntum. The weather was unfavourable and unfortunately did not lend itself to archeology, however, all had an enjoyable time in the coach on the way back when the choruses were conducted by an operatic friend of Mr. Goldner. The following afternoon, at 3.30, Vienna breathed a sigh of relief as the party of Alleynians boarded the Ostende Express for the 30-hour journey between them and home. After a quiet night, a most calm crossing was experienced to the relief of many, and at 8 o'clock the boat train disgorged 30 rather grubby boys and their luggage, all bursting with tales from the Vienna Woods.

After re-living all these happy memories, all the members of the party will no doubt join with the writers of this article in offering sincere thanks to Mr. Goldner for making this holiday possible.

K.L.A., M.J.E., B.M.K.

FILMING AT ELSTREE

Last year, at Easter time, the London Schools' Symphony Orchestra was asked to record some music for a film. We spent a Thursday and a Saturday recording the music, among which was a piece specially written by John Addison and a school song written by Dr. Russell, our conductor. On the summer course it was announced that various members would be needed to take part in the film and to help the "starlets" appearing in the film to play their instruments properly. I was among the lucky ones chosen and was given a time sheet telling me when and where I would be needed. The first couple of days I was at Elstree I had to rehearse the music. Although the music had been recorded, we were to play and our noise was cut off and the real recording "dubbed" in its place. Our wages were £1 per person, per rehearsal and £2 per person per

SNOW

There is warmth in the shell of summer,
In the winter by the hearth,
In the hearts of men.

Ice moulded shapes that mummify the green
Serve as crystal history
In the sight of men.

Slow dark skies that have little to share
Save the cold wimpering wind
In the faces of men.

Walk deep in the snow, with the past
A memory following behind
In the steps of men.

For the past is present, pressed in the ground
And the future is here in the virgin snow,
Before all men.

Only the present is uncertain
Between the frozen steps and the crystal untouched,
Beneath the feet of men.

Time is frozen in the snowy past,
untouched by spring,
In the memories of men.

M. J. GORMAN.

MUSIC NOTES, LENT TERM 1956

Last term was another busy one in the Music Department, our efforts being concentrated on the Chamber Music Concert early in the term and the two operas, Mozart's "Bastien and Bastienne," and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury" at the end.

As soon as School reassembled the newly-formed Chamber Orchestra began intensive rehearsal during the lunch hours, which were willingly given up to this purpose, not, of course, that the musicians were dissatisfied with the School dinners.

The evening of the concert on Saturday, 11th February, saw the Music Room in a very different light from that in which its supporters are accustomed to see it. In an atmosphere provoked by soft lights, evergreens and flowers, the concert opened to a "full house" with Corelli's concerto Grosso, No. 8, "The Christmas Concerto," enthusiastically played by the Chamber Orchestra. This was followed by Joseph Haydn's Violin Sonata in D played by B. K. Andrews, who having settled down played with boldness overcoming the difficult passages, and displaying a delicate tone in the slower movements.

Mr. Kennard introduced "Bastien," E. J. C. Pearce, and "Bastienne," D. Church, and we were given a delightful preview in a couple of excerpts from the opera, heralding its success which was to follow later in the term.

After the interval, the Wind Ensemble made their only appearance of the evening with a performance of Michael Haydn's Quartet for flute, oboe, bassoon
