Guest Day at Dulwich & Sydenham Hill Golf Club, the Society's 241st meeting, followed last year's format with the members and guests greensomes in the morning and the main event, the singles competitions in the afternoon.

Like everywhere in the country the weather had been hot and dry for weeks. However with watering to all parts of the course the ground was hard and bouncy but not excessively so and the greens were true and medium paced.

The guests included three former members and two current members of the golf club. There was also a number of golf club members amongst the Society attendees.

The morning competition for the Machell Shield over 12 holes was won by James Bridgeman and Will Deasy with an amazing 30 points. The guest stableford for the Spur Garage Trophy went to Stuart Douglas, the guest of Jack Roberts. For the members, George Thorne pipped John Knight to his own trophy by a single shot, playing 3 under his age in the process – see results below.
