

2017-18 Alleyn's Junior School Public Benefit and Outreach

Alleyn's Junior School is committed to supporting public benefit and outreach, notably within our local community of South London. As well as benefitting others, our own children gain a broader understanding of the society in which they live and how their actions and responsibilities as citizens can make a difference.

Wherever possible the children themselves will lead initiatives.

Along with our Senior School, we post some of these public benefits on the ISC (Independent Schools Council) Schools Together website and we are proud to be associated with the many initiatives occurring within the wider school.
